

Sudduth Search announces the placement of Director, Strategy at GoExpedi

Sudduth Search is pleased to announce the placement of Tyler DiGiovanni as Director, Strategy at GoExpedi, a Houston, Texas-based innovative e-commerce, supply chain and analytics company that is reinventing procurement for industrial and energy MRO (maintenance, repair and operations).

“Tyler comes to us with great experience across a range of industrial markets and a natural intellectual curiosity. He will play a critical role in shaping our strategic market expansion initiatives as well as help grow our core O&G business,” says Anthony Thomas, Senior Vice President, Strategy at GoExpedi.

“GoExpedi is great example of the transformational companies we have the privileged to work with. Placing Tyler helps the company continue to configure an executive team poised for long-term future growth and success,” said Jen Sudduth, Managing Partner at Sudduth Search.

About GoExpedi

Launched in 2017 and based in Houston, Texas, GoExpedi provides over 200,000 critical parts and supplies with complete transparency on price, supplier choice and availability through its online e-commerce platform. The company's innovative supply chain model has created a business that delivers the right part, at the right time, overcoming a fundamental challenge for the industry. Staffed by experts with oilfield management experience and backed by innovative technology, GoExpedi is able to deliver an incredible service at a lower cost than traditional suppliers.

About Sudduth Search

Sudduth Search is a boutique retained executive search firm headquartered in Houston, Texas focused on finding transformational, high impact talent for their clients.

For additional information:

Jen Sudduth

jen@sudduthsearch.com

713.560.0441 / www.sudduthsearch.com

or

www.goexpedi.com